

MAY 2022

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Our mission is to improve people's lives by inspiring and empowering people to build a brighter tomorrow. That's a broad mission, but it's something that we take seriously.

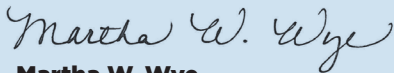

Today more than ever, financial stress plagues nearly every household, regardless of income. Our mission is to alleviate some of that by teaching people to learn to be wise stewards and managers of their money or finances.

We are constantly bombarded with messages to spend more, but rarely do we get the exposure on to how to save, create a budget, or be smart with our money. It's important to start at a young age so the message sticks, but it is never too late to alter our spending habits.

InFirst offers one-on-one financial counseling as well as educational seminars about budgeting, introduction to banking, spending, savings, retirement, paying taxes, and a little bit of history of money. If you will commit to learning how to spend and budget wisely, you will reap the rewards for years to come. Start with creating a budget. It can be a mindset shift for some people. If you are not sure where to begin, call us.

Your credit union has experts who can meet with individuals of all ages. We know that many parents don't have the financial skills or knowledge needed to pass on to their children. We are here to help you build a better future. You can be certain that when you need us, we will be there—just as we have been for almost 90 years.

Sincerely,

Martha W. Wye
